Hi Snowflake Team!

I saw your opening for a Sr. Cloud Support Engineer in Amsterdam and was super excited to apply because over the past few weeks I've been helping a colleague rubber-duck some of their IAC. It was rewarding drawing on my programming and infrastructure experience in a one-on-one way I have not had the opportunity to do as much of in my current role.

As listed in your requirements, I'm:

- well versed in multiple scripting and programming languages
- have several years experience supporting cloud and physical infrastructure. I got my start in tech working help-desk and doing technical writing actually.
- currently managing and creating IAC, operational processes, C# code, and automation scripting for a fleet of cloud resources and ~40,000 physical devices
- Very excited to have more freedom to learn about cloud infrastructure at even larger scales.

If you feel my experience and skills listed on my resume are a match for your team, I'd love to talk more about your needs for this position.

Cheers!

-Max
